JAMES M. YOUNG OF HARDEMAN COUNTY, TENNESSEE

(Submitted by Don Brown, 2053 Berdan Ave., Toledo, Ohio 43613)

James M. Young was born in the late 1780's in Halifax Co., N. C., the son of Jarrett Young and Elizabeth Moore who were married in 1783 at the conclusion of the Revolutionary War. James' middle name was probably Moore, he being named in full for his maternal grandfather, James Moore of Bertie Co., N. C., a veteran of the Revolutionary War who died in 1790 and mentioned James M. in his will. James M. undoubtedly never remembered his father since Jarrett Young died in 1788. Elizabeth Moore Young became a young widow with three small children, Titus and Edy being the two older ones. She was soon married to Jonathan Joyner, and about 1805 they left North Carolina.

Jonathan Joyner and Elizabeth Moore Young and family were probably in Jackson County, Tenn., sometime between 1805 and 1809, and then by 1809 they were in Livingston Co., Ky. in the vicinity of Salem and Smithland near the Cumberland and Ohio Rivers. Here on May 24, 1810, James M. Young was married to Nancy Porter, daughter of Thomas and Constant Porter who had moved to Kentucky from Edgcombe Co., N. C., where Nancy was born about 1790.

In 1815 James M. Young became a constable in Livingston Co., and in 1826 he became a justice of the peace, with his name appearing in many Livingston County court records during this period.

James M. and Nancy were the parents of at least six children, all of them born in Livingston County; Joseph J., born on Feb. 8, 1814, who was married to Winifred America McKenzie on March 22, 1846, and who died on June 15, 1902; Johathan J., born about 1820, who was married to Nancy H. Sanders on Aug. 17, 1843, and died in Texas; James Thomas, better known as Tom, who was born about 1821, and who was married to Elizabeth Smith on September 10, 1849; Elizabeth, born about 1826, who married Lemuel H. Jones on Aug. 6, 1846; William H., born about 1829, who was first married to Margaret Ann Vanderslice on Oct. 5, 1848, in Harrison County, Texas and after her death to Nancy Lawrence on Jan. 29, 1857, in Harrison Co.; and Nancy P., born Feb. 5, 1832, who married William Franklin Dorris on Dec. 11, 1851, and who died May 6, 1892.

In 1832 the Youngs moved to Hardeman Co., Tenn., where Jonathan and Elizabeth Joyner and some of their eight or so children had moved in the 1820's. James' sister and brother-in-law, Edy and Drury Champion, also made the move from Kentucky to Hardeman County. James' brother, Titus, had died about 1810, and Titus' only child, Mary B., died before reaching adulthood.

James M. Young apparently died in Hardeman County about 1842, Nancy surviving him by about eleven years; and his mother, Elizabeth Moore Young Joyner, died on Oct. 26, 1849. All of the children of James M. and Nancy except for Jonathan J. and William H. spent the rest of their lives in Hardeman County, and all except for William H. were married there. Joseph J. and James Thomas lived on adjoining farms in the old Civil District #14 in the Shandy area. It isn't known where James M. and Nancy are buried. Joseph J. is buried in Cearley Cemetery near Toone, and Nancy Young Dorris is buried in Walnut Grove Cemetery.

There are many descendants of James M. Young in Hardeman County today, some of them being descended through his son, Joseph J. and in turn through Joseph's son, James Madison. Joseph J. Young and Winifred America McKenzie, the daughter of James McKenzie and Narcissa Whitaker, were the parents of ten children; James Madison, born about 1846, who married Florence E. Smith on Dec. 7, 1871; Jarrett M., born about 1847, who married Manetta J. Sullivan on Jan. 2, 1869, and who died in 1910; Narcissa, born about 1851, who married John H. Sills on June 7, 1868, and who moved to Kentucky; Richard, born about 1856; Clarinda C., born about 1859; Joseph J., born about 1865; Thomas, born about 1867; and twins: Lewis F. and Amanda M., born June 8, 1870. Amanda married Atlas F. Sheields Jan. 16, 1890 and she died March 27, 1915.

History of the Cloar Family

(The following account is taken from the old Union City, Tennessee Commercial, February 18, 1921.)

My grandfather's name was Johnnie Cloar, who married Mary Turner, and the names of his brothers were Billie, Elijah and James. His sister, Mary, married Bynum Ferrill and they lived in Sumner county at Blitzer's Lick, on Cumberland river. They built flatboats and carried their farm produce and livestock and walked back from New Orleans 19 times before the steamboats came to Sumner county.

In 1824 they came in a flat-boat to Hickman (Kentucky), then called Mills Point, and settled on Reelfoot Creek, on Troy-Hickman road, 7 miles from Hickman. My father was the eldest son. He had one brother, William, and two sisters, Patsy and Betsy. The latter married J. T. Dougherty, who was in the civil war. Patsy married a Majors and lived and died in Graves county. My father, Abb Cloar, married Susan Hubbard and raised a large family. His four oldest boys went to the war and three were killed and I was wounded. Elijah's son, Johnnie, married a Hubbard. His three oldest sons went to the war and two of them died.

Calvin Cloar, son of William Cloar raised a large family and his eldest son went to the war.

Bynum Ferrill settled at Comba Springs. There were four daughters, Harriet, Elizabeth, Mary and Matilda, and a son, James, and another, I don't remember. Harriet married a James and lived near Hickman. Jess Cloar, a brother of John Cloar, also moved to this county about the same time. His oldest daughter married Dick Mosier and raised a large family. Uncle Elijah Cloar came to this country later on and settled in the same neighborhood. He had two sons, Green and John, who were in the civil war four years and were fortunate enough to get back home. Green Cloar is still living in this county, is ninety years of age and in good health.

When my ancestor came to this country there were no mills, no roads nor churches, so they and the other people that were here went to work and built churches and school houses. They sawed the lumber with a whip saw and made houses out of what is called "hewed" logs, with stick and dirt chimneys.

There were no threshers at that time, so what little wheat they raised they tramped it out with horses and fanned out with sheets and carried it to a little horse mill which my father built on the Troy and Hickman road, and had it and their corn ground. They never had biscuit but once a week, and that was on Sunday morning. They had no place to trade with the exception of Hickman. They made most of their shoes from leather they tanned themselves. The women spun on spinning wheels and wove their cloth on an old fashioned loom and made their clothes. No one idled away any time. They all worked.

They cut a road from Troy to Hickman, one from Dresden to Hickman, and one from Dyersburg to Hickman, all running in a northwesterly direction. These roads were called the Public Highway, and they were three notched roads, that is, they put three notches on a tree so when a man got on the highway, he knew he was on the road to Hickman, or to one of these towns. They also cut a road from Reelfoot Lake, running across these roads, crossing the Troy road by the White place, and running down by Old Republican, and out here by Brevard's Crossing, the road forked and the right hand went to Jacksonville (no longer in existence, but just east of present Union City, Tn. city limits.) and the left hand went to Moscow, Ky. These were two-notched roads, and second-class roads. All the little roads running into these roads were one-notched roads, so a man could travel in those days without any trouble.

Old Republican church, near this city, was the first church organized in Obion county. It was organized in 1823, and the deed was given for a union church and a school house. Those grand old pioneer preachers, Finley Bynum, Gid Bransford, Wade Frost Weaver, John Ward, William White, preached here. So this church went on as a union church until they split up, one wing going to Beulah near Union City, and the Glovers, Grays and Howards built Mt. Olive church, while the Methodists and Cumberland Presbyterians built a church called Shiloh, on Troy and Hickman road, afterwards building what is now known as Antioch church.

Jerry A. Cloar

(At the time this was written, Mr. Cloar was 78 years old.)

Virginia June 4, 1818

At a court held for Albemarle County the first day of June
One thousand eight hundred and eighteen

William Turner aged sixty three years last February free resident of the County of Albemarle personally appeared in Court and being first duly sworn according to law. On oath doth make the following declaration in order to obtain the provision made by the late act of Congress entitled "an act to provide for certain persons engaged in the land and naval service of the United States in the revolutionary War" That he the said William Turner enlisted in the spring of the year 1776 in the state of in the Company commanded by Captain Francis Taylor of the Second Virginia regiment, Commanded Colonel Spotswood for the term of two years, on the second day of December 1777 he reenlisted for the term of three years in the company commanded by Captain Francis Taylor, that he served two years thereafter, and procured a substitute, for the third year, when he was honorably discharged (which discharge he has lost) in the State of , that he was in the battle of German-town, and the striking of the Stoney point fort, by General Wayne: that he has no other evidence now in his power of his said service, that he is in reduced circumstances, and stands in need of the assistance of his Country for support. Whereupon, it is ordered by the Court that it be certified to the Honorable Secretary for the War department, that it appears to the satisfaction of the Court, that the said William Turner did serve as stated in the preceeding declaration against the common Enemy, in the revolutionary war on the Continental establishment for term stated in the above declaration, that he is in reduced circumstances and stands in need of the assistance of his Country for support and that the inventory and proceedings herewith taken had be transmitted to the said Secretary for the War department.

(Seal)

In testimony whereof I Alexander Garrett
Clerk of the County Court of Albemarle have hereunto set my hand to affirm the seal of my office this fourth day of June 1818 and in the 42nd year of the Commonwealth.

State of Kentucky
County of Madison

On this 6th day of June, 1834, before me the subscriber, a Justice of the Peace for the said County of Madison, personally appeared William Turner, who, on his oath declares that he is the same person who formerly belonged to the Company commanded by Captain Francis Taylor, in the Regiment commanded by Colonel Alexander Spotswood, in the service of the United States; that his name was placed on the pension rolls of the State of Virginia from whence he has lately removed; that he now resides in the State of Kentucky, where he intends to remain (unless he should remove to the State of Tennessee, where he has several children now living,) and whshes his pension to be there payable, in future. The following are his reasons for removing from the State of Virginia to the State of Kentucky, Madison County, to wit: The remainder of his children were removing to the State of Kentucky, and he was? old and infirm, and was unwilling to remain behind and therefore accompanied his children to his present residence, where he lost his horse, and became sick, in consequence of which he took up his residence with his son-in-law Pleasant Martin, who now resides in Madison County, Kentucky. He designs visiting his children living in the State of Tennessee, as soon as his health will permit, and he is enabled to do so by receiving his pension money, and provided he is better or more pleased with that part of the country than his present residence he may and probably will conclude to take up his permanent residence in that State.
